

A surreal, dreamlike scene. In the upper half, a large, glowing face with wide eyes and a slight smile is superimposed on a warm, orange-hued sky. To the left, a hot air balloon with vertical stripes is visible. The middle section is filled with soft, white clouds and several bright, starburst-like light effects. The lower half features a large, illuminated tent with a wavy, hypnotic pattern. The word "Hoakalpanne" is written in a stylized font on the tent's entrance. Silhouettes of people and bicycles are visible in the foreground, suggesting a festival or gathering at night.
